REPUBLICAN TO MAKE STUDIES IN PHILIPPINES

Congressman Miller Here, En Route to Manila in Interest of Committee on Insular Affairs

AGAINST FREE SUGAR BUT SEEKS INFORMATION

Will Make Report to Washington on Feasibility of Home Rule for Insular Possessions

Congressman Clarence B. Miller, Republican representative from Minnesota and a member of the house committee on insular affairs, is in Honolulu, a passenger in the transport Sherman, en route to Manila. Congressman Miller is representing the Republican side of his committee, in a personal investigation of existing conditions in the Philippines. He will make trips to the interior, and study first-hand the peoples of the islands, with regard to their fitness for national independence, when that question comes up for discussion by congress at the regular session in December.

This is Congressman Miller's first trip across the Pacific, but he takes over the big task of sifting conditions with as thorough a knowledge of the Philippines and its history, as can be gained by wide reading, and a careful study of all legislation passed in connection with the islands since they were taken over by the United States. He has consulted with men who know the Philippines like a book, and goes on his mission with a determination to get as near the true facts as is possible during the limited time of his prospective stay.

SCIENTIST IS SUCCEEDING IN MISSION TO FIJI

Prof. John F. Illingworth of the College of Hawaii has succeeded in the first stage of his attempt to check the cane-borer in the sugar fields of Fiji, according to news that has reached Honolulu from Suva.

The entomologist went to Fiji some time ago with a colony of tachinid flies and the result of his experiments has been awaited with interest by his friends here and the scientists who have seen the cane-borer in Hawaii successfully fought. Now comes the news that the flies are safely established in several places in Fiji and it is anticipated that their spread will be rapid and the cane-borer will soon be checked.

Prof. Illingworth, according to a report in the Fiji Times, has made some interesting discoveries during his work with the tachinid in Fiji. He is reported to have ascertained that the flies mate in six days, which is true is valuable in the liberation of the colonies. Another matter of general interest is the report that his investigations show that the little brown ant is a natural enemy of the common house-fly and that the ants destroy countless flies in the egg or larva stage.

TERRITORY IS NOT MATRIMONIAL BUREAU, CONTENDS GOVERNOR

The paternal territorial government cheerfully encourages inter-marriage among home-owners but it firmly refuses to serve in the capacity of a general matrimonial agency—particularly if such service is going to cost the government any considerable amount of real money.

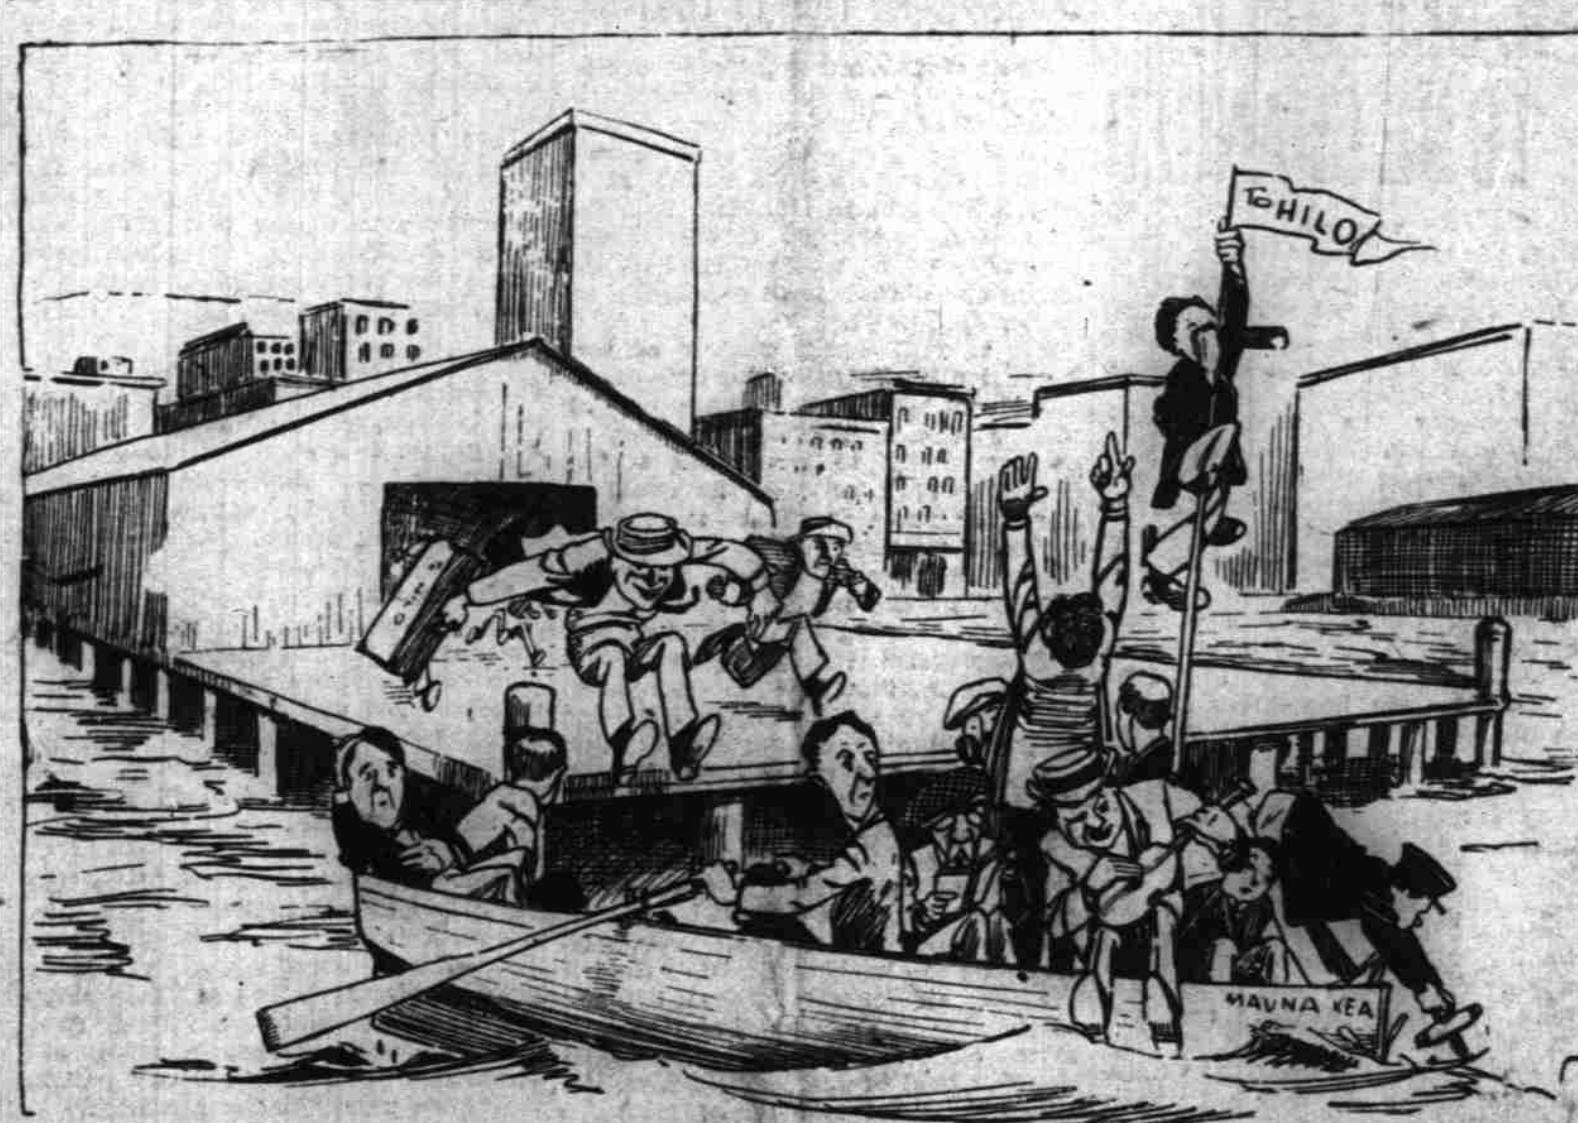

This decision was announced today by Governor Frear. The question was put to him by Attorney General Thayer in the case of William C. Pohlman, member of the firm of Pohlman Brothers, proprietors of the Makiki Heights Poultry Ranch. Pohlman departed on the steamer Niagara for Vancouver, B. C.

A young woman, whose name is withheld, appeared at the attorney general's office this morning with a serious charge against the young man. She adds that she wants to marry him and will not prosecute him. He could be brought back on a criminal charge, but if he should then marry the young woman the prosecution would fall flat. It would cost about $1,000 to wind up the necessary "red tape" to bring him back.

In his dilemma the attorney general called on the chief executive for advice and the latter's counsel was brief and exceedingly plain.

"We have no money to bring any more alleged criminals back to the islands," he is quoted as saying.

WOULD SUBMIT TARIFF MEASURE TO THE PEOPLE SENATOR GALLINGER SUGGESTS THE REFERENDUM

Plans to Defer Action Until 1914 Session of Congress

A proposition of deferring further action on the Underwood tariff bill until December, 1914, and in the meanwhile have the bill submitted to a referendum of the voters of the country, has been made to congress by Senator Jacob H. Gallinger of New Hampshire. The latter has introduced in the senate a measure for that purpose, which he calls a substitute bill.

Comments are being made on his proposition throughout the country, many of them strongly favorable to it. In many of the opinions expressed it is pointed out that the American voters should be given an opportunity to pass on the tariff bill, which vitally affects many interests, prior to its enactment into law.

In the Congressional Record of July 18, Senator Gallinger's resolution appears. He asked the president to permit it to be read, printed and placed on the table. The measure is as follows:

Strike out the entire bill, including the enacting clause, and insert the following:
Whereas, the Democratic party is in control of the national government; and
Whereas, a tariff bill (H. R. 3321) is under consideration by the United States; and
Whereas, any tariff bill affects every citizen of the United States either favorably or adversely; and
Whereas, in several states now

SENATOR JACOB H. GALLINGER of New Hampshire, who would submit tariff bill to referendum vote of the country.

Whereas the Democratic party has repeatedly declared its adherence to the policy of referring national matters to the electorate; and
Whereas, in several states now

Introduces Resolution Calling For Drastic Action on Bill

represented, in whole or in part, by Democratic senators, there is strong disapproval of some of the provisions in the pending bill. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That further consideration of the bill be postponed until the first Monday of December, 1914, and that meanwhile the bill be submitted to a referendum of the legal voters of the United States at the state and congressional elections to be held during that year.

The New York Herald has said the following regarding the substitute bill:

"Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire yesterday introduced as a substitute for the Underwood bill a resolution postponing any action on the tariff until the regular session, beginning December, 1914, in order that the country could express its opinion of the pending revision.

"That's better than trying to talk the tariff bill to death or seeking to delay a square vote by subterfuges. "If there is any parliamentary way in which a vote can be taken at once on Mr. Gallinger's bill, by all means let there be one. That would end the chatter about defeating the Underwood bill and give the country relief. We doubt whether the Gallinger resolution could command the full vote of the regular Republicans."

PINKHAM'S DEFEAT MEANS A MAINLANDER

C. H. Brown Quotes Senator Lewis as Stating That the Organic Act Will Be Changed

PREDICTS DEMOCRATS IN ALL LOCAL OFFICES

Believes Tariff Measure Will Be Materially Changed Before Adoption

Attributing to Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, the Bourbon "whip" of the senate, the statement that if L. E. Pinkham is not confirmed as governor of the islands, the organic act will be amended, and a mainland named as the chief executive of Hawaii, and making many other statements of political and industrial interest, such as the probable defeat or drastic modification of the Wilson-Underwood tariff bill, C. H. Brown, manager of the Honolulu Soap Iron Company, has returned to Honolulu from Washington. He arrived on the Honolulu Tuesday.

That Pinkham will make a clean sweep of the present gubernatorial cabinet, so called, and will put Democrats in their places, that he will be given the right-of-way by President Wilson to fill all the appointive positions in the territory, that he will return here unindebted to any "corporations, cliques, or gangs"; and that he will run the government absolutely as he believes best, are other statements that Mr. Brown made this morning during an interview with a Star-Bulletin representative.

He says that E. M. Watson would have been undoubtedly nominated as governor, but that the president became convinced that Mr. Watson was sugar lobbying while in Washington. Many other congressmen ascribe that as the reason for Mr. Watson not being appointed, he asserts.

"The opposition to Pinkham in the

[Associated Press Cable]
PHILADELPHIA, August 14.—William Locke, the president of the local National League Baseball Club and a well-known baseball man, died here today.

The application of Judge A. S. Humphreys for admission to membership in the Bar Association of Hawaii has been posted in the office of the circuit court clerk. Though an old resident of Hawaii, Judge Humphreys has not been a member of the Bar Association for about ten years. His resignation from the organization many years ago was the climax of an interesting and highly exciting epoch in the legal fraternity that is ancient history now, with its feuds relegated to the class of entertaining anecdotes.

BILLS MUST PASS, SAYS WILSON NOW

SENATOR KERN OUT FOR PUBLIC CAUCUS

Defeated Once, He Serves Notice He Will Try Again to Open Important Deliberations

[Associated Press Cable]
WASHINGTON, D. C., August 14.—President Wilson today gave evidence of his determination to force the tariff bill through congress, and the currency bill if possible, before the extra session adjourns or takes a recess. Today the president notified the Democratic caucus that he opposes a recess of congress after the tariff bill passes and before the currency bill is taken up. He says he is opposed to having the currency bill being shaped with congress in recess.

[Associated Press Cable]
WASHINGTON, D. C., August 14.—Senator John W. Kern of Indiana, Democratic senate leader, today moved that the party caucus be open to the public. The caucus took a vote and defeated the plan. He served notice that he will move the plan again, declaring that the party should not keep its caucus deliberations secret.

SULZER WON'T YIELD SEAT AND STATE IS UPSET

[Associated Press Cable]
ALBANY, N. Y., August 14.—As a result of the bitter fight of which Governor William Sulzer is the center, official business of the state of New York is in a state of demoralization.

The governor today accepted service of the impeachment papers, but reiterated his intention to fight impeachment to the last ditch, and to resist the action of the court if it finds him guilty. He holds that the assembly has no legal right to impeach him. Both the governor and lieutenant-governor claim the gubernatorial chair with the legislature siding with the latter.

The secretary of the state, who has the great seal of the state in his possession, is understood to be opposed to Sulzer, and may attempt, with the lieutenant-governor, to carry on business.

FIGHT ON PINKHAM ALREADY LEADING TO TALK OF 'OUTSIDER'

(Special to the Star-Bulletin.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 14.—Hon. C. A. Galbraith of Ada, Oklahoma, is soon to arrive in Washington. Galbraith is an intimate friend of Senator Owen of Oklahoma, was once associate justice of the supreme court of the territory of Hawaii, and the man who put through the amendment of the organic act of Hawaii, allowing appeals from the supreme court of the territory to the supreme court of the United States. Judge Galbraith is understood to have watched the Hawaiian situation with some interest. In event of the war between the Democrats of Hawaii and the administration continuing, Galbraith may be considered as the man to send to the territory under an amendment of the organic act to straighten things out. This, it is believed, he would do with a vigorous hand, as he is fully in sympathy with the Wilson administration in its attitude on free sugar and the general situation in Hawaii.

JOY-RIDER COMPELLED TO PENSION VICTIM

LOS ANGELES.—Instead of sending J. S. McNutt, a convicted joy-rider, to prison, Judge Wilbur of the superior court suspended a 5-year sentence over him, on condition that he pay $30 a month until she recovers to Miss Olive Davis, a young woman injured when McNutt's machine was wrecked. Physicians say Miss Davis' injuries are permanent.

The girl, in a plaster cast, testified that McNutt was speeding while intoxicated.
